Snowell — featuring Fuchsberger, Chris Doyle, Mike Stringer, Damian Goninan, Kevin Holbrook, Meinhard Steiner, Eric Dorf, Steve Hill and coach Mike Spiers — led the competition after day one with a score of 35 Friday, just ahead of Boys From the Hood (34.5), the Deer Valley DV 8's (33.5) and The Terminators (33.5).

Saturday, Boys From the Hood scored 18 on its final demo, which featured four perfect jumps. The Terminators countered with a superb demo that didn't use the jump, but saw all eight skiers pull off two 360-degree spins at high speed.

While the battle between the top three teams kept the crowd excited all day, a few other highlights drew some big cheers:

- Kevin Bramble and Chris Young of the Silver Express team from Silver Creek dazzled the spectators by fetching huge air while riding sit-ski "monoski" sleds. Crested Butte's Young won gold at the 1994 Paralympics, and Saturday he showed that being disabled doesn't mean taking a back seat to the mountain.

- Four members of the Screaming Steamers, from Steamboat, did tricks off the big kicker while giving the "Mile High Salute" with their right hand, made famous by the Denver Broncos during their Super Bowl run.
